
Thin lines: individual confirmatory folds, colored by condition; thick lines: condition means. Each fold averages two optimization repeats. The random-model panel uses a zoomed y-axis.